2008 WOW! Oasis Hospitality Suite Gift Lounge Spoils the Stars

Wow was the operative word at the 2008 WOW! Oasis Hospitality Suite Gift Lounge in honor of the 80th Annual Academy Awards. Held in the penthouse of the Hyatt Sunset the views were great, music was playing, the stars were shining, and everyone was having a great time. It was a great precursor for the Big Night.

As celebrities and VIPs entered the suite, they were met by gracious host Mark Harris of WOW! Creations, who took a hands-on approach and presented stars and VIPs himself with a very beautiful and roomy Vera Bradley bag to house all the goodies to be had. With the gifting so abundant, the stars were all smiles and exited even happier. The suite was a great success and very well done. Some of the incredible swag to be had included:

Sonya Paz Art.

It was a delight to meet artist Sonya Paz, who was onhand to gift her exquisite pieces of art. Her art is like a playful vacation for the eyes. Her exuberant use of color and shapes are engaging yet simple, motivating and energized...colors that pulls you in like a vortex... all through her wildly creative and positive attitude. You feel happy and joyful just looking at her art. I was drawn in and instantly a fan.

Sonya's paintings and vivid images are a reflection of her California roots and her passion and love for life. Her works are inspired by cubist style elements and the Pop Art movement. Seasoned by traveling the world to study art and its history, Sonya has a passion for Modern Art, Pop Art, Cubism, and Surrealism. These influences can be seen in her work, where traditional styles compete with wacky pop art imagery fancied over the past 30 years.

This is an artist to watch. Her pieces will not doubt become collectors items. I've got my eye on more than a few pieces! Her work is brilliant.

Sonya continues to take her artwork to fun and rewarding levels. Amongst posters, wine labels and promotional venues, she has worked with many charities to raise funds to gain awareness for foundations as the National Breast Cancer Foundation along with the Humane Society of Silicon Valley (HSSV). She is an official supporter where her company gives generous portions of sales back to those organizations.

Maya Volk was on hand to help the stars rejuvenate and look their best with Hyperbaric Oxygen Therapy. The hyperbaric chamber assists in general wellness, anti-aging and rejuvenation. Run by Maya Volk and under the supervision of Dr. Gunner Heuser, the chamber is an alternative approach to medicine, the chamber works by having a person step into the chamber that is then pressurized and filled with highly concentrated oxygen and allows them breath in its healthful benefits. Sally Kirkland was happy to take advantage of the enhanced atmosphere, getting in on the what Maya calls the best kept secret of Hollywood stars.

Not only about just looking good the treatments Maya also has seen them help detoxify the body, improve immune and reproductive function, as well as aid in those suffering from brain injuries. She explains that as we live in an environment with less concentration of the good old O₂ than we have in hundreds of years of living on the planet due to pollutants and toxins, even the food we eat can leave us feeling drained and looking older and more tired. Stars and all people needing to be at their best have even seen a difference in their endurance and a quickening in reaction time. The secret they have to looking on top of your game those recovering from injuries can speed up their healing and the HBOT has helped people who suffer from chronic pain disorders. Located in two locations (Beverly Hills and Sunset Strip) she also provides a mobile thereby unit that can be set up anywhere. www.o2-beauty.com (310) 622-2525 Watch the video from the event here: <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=YCvZzGIa6M> was there gifting a bar of soap! But Nephria is no ordinary bar of soap. It is the world's most luxurious, expensive and extravagant beauty bar made with real Jade.

So, why boast that it is the most expensive? The Nephria Jade Beauty Bar contains an expensive and special form of Jade, mined from a single seam in South Korea, which has unique healing properties. This particular Jade emits "Far-Infrared Rays (FIR)" which are similar to the radiant and warming electromagnetic rays of the sun. The human body absorbs FIR as they penetrate deep into the tissue where they transform from light energy into heat energy, assisting the skin in expelling harmful toxins and metabolic waste. This improves blood circulation and the regeneration of cellular tissue. The FIR rays in the Jade have been captured by infrared scanning, as shown on www.Nephria.co.uk

The Nephria Jade Beauty Bar developer Charlotte Newbert Mills, Director of Newbert Revolution Ltd, with husband Andrew Mills.

With unique ingredients, including Nephrite (Jade powder), together with pure oils from apricot, olive and jojoba, the Nephria Jade Beauty Bar cleanses, revitalises, rejuvenates and reinvigorates the skin and complexion. The Nephria Jade Beauty Bar is available from either Fred Segal, Santa Monica, or online at www.Nephria.co.uk. The company has a range of other Jade Products including the Nephi Serums, Moisturizer and Body Lotions, which will be available later in 2008.

Rose Yoko with her beautiful and unique "decoration art"!

is a lovely artist whose style is self-named "decoration art". Born in Japan, Yoko was inspired by her first visit to Paris and European style to start her long journey of experimentation with her unique art form that combines decoration arts with many kinds of materials including antique lace, pearls, natural stones, and beading. After owning a boutique where she carried handbags and accessories and with her experience in oil painting she began her work using images of nudes and roses, launching herself into her new artistic style. She divines her creative energy from her belief in spiritual power and channels it into her themes of romance and dreams, imbuing her works with all her being. Inspired by her mother and her recent illness, her pieces are all rooted in remembrances of her and in the belief Yoko has in praying for her recovery.

Yoko's unique artwork has been displayed all over the world and she joined us on the eve of the 2008 Academy Awards in the Oscar Suites with her elegant creations to launch her U.S. debut.

Margarita King

The ever-popular Margarita King was there to add pizzazz and they did with their famous Margaritas in the bottle. It is the first real top-shelf margarita in a bottle and the only ready-to-serve cocktail to ever win 3 Gold Medals by the Beverage Testing Institute of Chicago for 2004, 2005 & 2006. Made with the finest double distilled tequila by the makers of Espolon, double distilled orange liqueur, natural sugar cane, and lemon & lime juices, The Margarita King was a smash!

The Margarita King is self-contained and carries the highest alcohol content, 17% ABV, of any margarita cocktail. Giovanni, the creator of The Margarita King made sure no leaf or lime was left unturned. He spent two years devoted to researching for the very best tequilas in all of Mexico, experimenting with different mixes until he got it exactly right. The perfect fusion of the finest tequila from Arandas, Mexico and smooth orange liqueur, it was Giovanni's insatiable quest for quality and consistency in every bottle of The Margarita King. As they say...Just say "King me, baby"! The Margarita King www.themargaritaking.com adjustable purse hanger, handbag holder, keying, tiny diaper bag hook, compact umbrella hook, key finder... Prensus takes care of personal accessories men and women take everywhere everyday by suspending them above the ground, away from high traffic areas. We never knew we needed this until we saw it, now we wonder what we ever did without it!

Prensus creator Odilla Sidime with the legendary William Shatner.

Prensus Portable Hanging Devices are the most unique ultimate purse accessories in ages. Everyone had the same reactions at the LA Photo Party (non) booth... they loved taking silly, funny shots and then viewing themselves right afterwards.

There was a party going on inside this party. I noticed the commotion going on and I ventured over to find LA Photo Party. Think of the traditional photo booth, where you mug for funny shots, but take away the booth, and add the open space. With a large white backdrop to the ceiling, the digital camera is programmed to snap a picture every 5 seconds. LA Photo Party's photo booth-without-the-booth is wide enough for a 10-person group hug and quick enough to catch a mid-air leap (and the potentially ensuing mid-floor spill). They provide the props, costumes, and wigs, and even print the photos right there on the spot, guaranteeing your guest's souvenir pictures will be candid, hilarious, and completely unique. Available for parties, this adds another element of WOW! Visit: www.LAPhotoParty.com or call 310-997-0019.

Fruits to Remember provided its original arrangements made of fresh fruits and chocolate. The centerpieces and baskets were loaded with tasty grapes, cantaloupes and pineapples carved into all kinds of shapes like daisy's and stars, as well as decadent chocolate covered strawberries. Unlike most of the ones I've tasted where the chocolate is hard and you don't get the rich taste of the chocolate, with these, even though they are chilled, the chocolate was creamy and delicious and really enhanced the flavor of the fruit. Another bonus, no preservatives, additives or sweeteners are used, so it could mean an actual alternative to replace pastries when gifting or planning an event. Mimi Rogers and Oscar nominee William Beltrami were among the celebrities who got to savor the sculpted bouquets. www.fruitstoremember.com is a website and T.V. channel dedicated to...what else - jewelry. It features the fine pieces at a great deal off of retail prices suited to fit any budget. There are also new discounts on a variety of gemstones, each day, and thousands of auctions. A source for not only the avid diamond aficionado, but a good spot to find special gifts like watches for the men. There are also segments devoted to collectibles and jewelry makers who need supplies, as well as tips on how to certify your diamonds and check the origins of gemstones. You can watch JTV on television on Direct TV channel 313 or from any computer 24/7 to keep up with the latest they have to offer.

Jewelry television (www.JTV.com)

"Monster Man" Paul Palacios shared about the delicious new coffee-based Monster energy drinks. Really packs a punch and tastes so good!

Monster Energy Drinks

unleash their bite with the "meanest energy drink" in the world. With twice the buzz of most other energy drinks the flavors are smooth, and pack a distinctly powerful left-hook to your senses. With a line of different combinations, the Monster Army gives you plenty of choices. From the classic Monster to the Lo-Carb

Monster with half the calories - carbs hacked to pieces, to the Monster Kahos and M-80 with a mix of juices inspired by athletes and pro-surfers, and just for the fun of it, the camouflaged covered Monster Assault, cause it looks cool. The latest from the Monster maker's lab are all new coffee drinks that can be had in low cal too. Creamy with that delicious coffee taste and that extra punch, you may forget all about your favorite coffeehouse drinks (and save money too)! www.monsterenergy.com

Goji Grand Goji Liqueur

We've all heard about the great health benefits of the Goji berries. It is renowned in Asia is a highly nutritious food and it has been used in traditional herb medicine for the past 1900 years. How great it is that you can now get the nutritional benefit of Goji in a liqueur. Gogi Grand uses nutrient rich Goji as a main ingredient and it is late learned with carrot juice and aroma of orange. A most interesting cocktail!

Supersmile

When a star smiles, they better be able to knock you out with a dazzling smile! But with the popularity of coffee, red wine, tobacco and more, you need to stand up in the daily to for your teeth to stay white. Supersmile Professional Whitening Toothpaste is the leading whitening toothpaste most recommended by cosmetic dentists worldwide. It removes superficial stains and leaves teeth glistening and noticeably smoother without harsh abrasives. The ultra-premium, clinically developed Supersmile oral care whitening and maintenance system was created by the celebrated Dr. Irwin Smigel, founder of The American Society for Dental Aesthetics and the acknowledged father of aesthetic dentistry. It has been clinically proven to be safer for teeth and gums - when used as directed - than other leading at-home whitening systems. It has been proven to brighten teeth more effectively than the leading national brand. www.supersmile.com
